Pearland's parks are strong and getting stronger. A City parks department adds greatly to the quality of life, attractiveness and vitality of a community. Pearland Parks & Recreation does that many times over, every day. We have programs for all ages, many produced by our staff, with a focus on providing quality and variety. Operationally, I'm very proud that our City's Parks & Recreation Department is one of a select group of departments across the USA that have become certified through the Commission on Accreditation of Parks & Recreation Agencies (CAPRA). In fact, CAPRA recently approved Pearland for an expedited recertification review in May 2018, which is all thanks to our staff's continuing excellence in documenting and producing results.

City of Pearland Parks & Recreation successfully partners with a multitude of groups, which was evidenced during the recent renovation of the Tom Reid Public Library. The library facilities in Pearland, while they exist on land owned by the City, are operated through the Brazoria County Library System. Our Parks & Recreation Department has hosted programs for the Library during its renovation at the Recreation Center & Natatorium. Now, the Tom Reid Library on Liberty Drive is open and ready to continue their great services. We have in our Capital Improvements Program plans for a future library on Shadow Creek Parkway. Be sure to stay tuned as that thinking progresses.

One big thing that I want to share is that our major, long-standing parks are set to receive significant upgrades. Check out our YouTube channel for our February update about construction at Independence Park & Centennial Park, as well as our brand new Delores Fenwick Nature Center on Magnolia next to our recycling center operated in partnership by Keep Pearland Beautiful. Centennial Park is set to open first (probably by the time you read this) with new amenities and additional ballfields. The work at Independence Park continues, with major earthwork being done to create the stage (literally) for a future outdoor amphitheater.

Pearland parks remain strong and highly valued. Take a look through this Pearland in Motion to get a sense of where to participate and play this summer.

PEARLAND CONVENTION & VISITORS BUREAU CELEBRATES 5-YEAR ANNIVERSARY

This year marks the 5-year anniversary for the Pearland Convention & Visitors Bureau. The department is a division of the City of Pearland and is funded by the Motel Hotel Occupancy Tax. The team led by Executive Director Kim Sinistore remains focused on their primary purpose to expand Pearland's economy by attracting visitors to the City. Each year millions of dollars from visitor spending generate increased business and the enhancement of Pearland's image.

Highlights of happenings with the Pearland Convention & Visitors Bureau include the production of the Pearland Art & Crafts on the Pavilion event held the first weekend in October and collaboration with organizers of Pearland Opry on the Square to showcase traditional country music with four concert dates in 2018.

More recently, the Pearland Convention & Visitors Bureau teamed up with City of Pearland Parks & Recreation in hosting the prestigious Texas Amateur Athletic Federation (TAAF) Winter Games of Texas held over Martin Luther King Jr. weekend. Pearland will host this major city-wide amateur athletic event again January 18-20, 2019 drawing visitors from across the state of Texas.

"Pearland's easy access to Houston area amenities just off Texas highways paired with more affordable hotels appeals to event organizers such as TAAF. Our reputation to host events of this caliber help to grow Pearland as a destination," according to Sinistore.

Mark your calendar, as the Pearland Convention & Visitors Bureau will kick off National Travel and Tourism Week, May 6-13 with a 5-year anniversary Travel Rally Block Party on Friday, May 4th at the Pearland Town Center starting at 11 a.m. "Travel Then and Now" is the 2018 theme of National Travel and Tourism Week. Visit Pearland will celebrate with food trucks, interactive stations of local activities & attractions, and an awards ceremony honoring local hospitality and tourism superstars.

Annually the Pearland Convention & Visitors Bureau continues to host and sponsor events designed to draw visitors to the City such as Kanzi Fest, Beerster and Oktoberfest.

HURRICANE HARVEY

After almost ten years without a major disaster hitting Pearland, Hurricane Harvey found its way to our community in late August of 2017. Category 4 hurricane force winds made landfall between Port Aransas and Port O’Conner, in Rockport, Texas, two days prior to shifting course towards the Houston metropolitan area. While the hurricane status of the storm had diminished, gale force winds and 50 inches of torrential rainfall made their way to Pearland, causing substantial damage to more than 1,400 homes, 20 or more City-owned buildings and countless cars and trucks owned by area residents. Over 50 vehicles in the City’s fleet were damaged, but nothing like the loss of cars and trucks Pearland residents incurred.

Flooding affected the Twin Creek area of town the most, but the amazing volunteerism of the people of Pearland, coupled with Pearland’s well-equipped local government disaster management, helped all of those in harm’s way avoid loss of life or major personal injuries. The City’s Emergency Operations Center (EOC) was activated shortly after Mayor Tom Reid issued the City’s official Disaster Proclamation on August 24, and the local Incident Command Structure (ICS) quickly became operational in an effort to initiate the emergency coordination, safety, volunteer, public communications, and resource management priorities needed to protect the community.

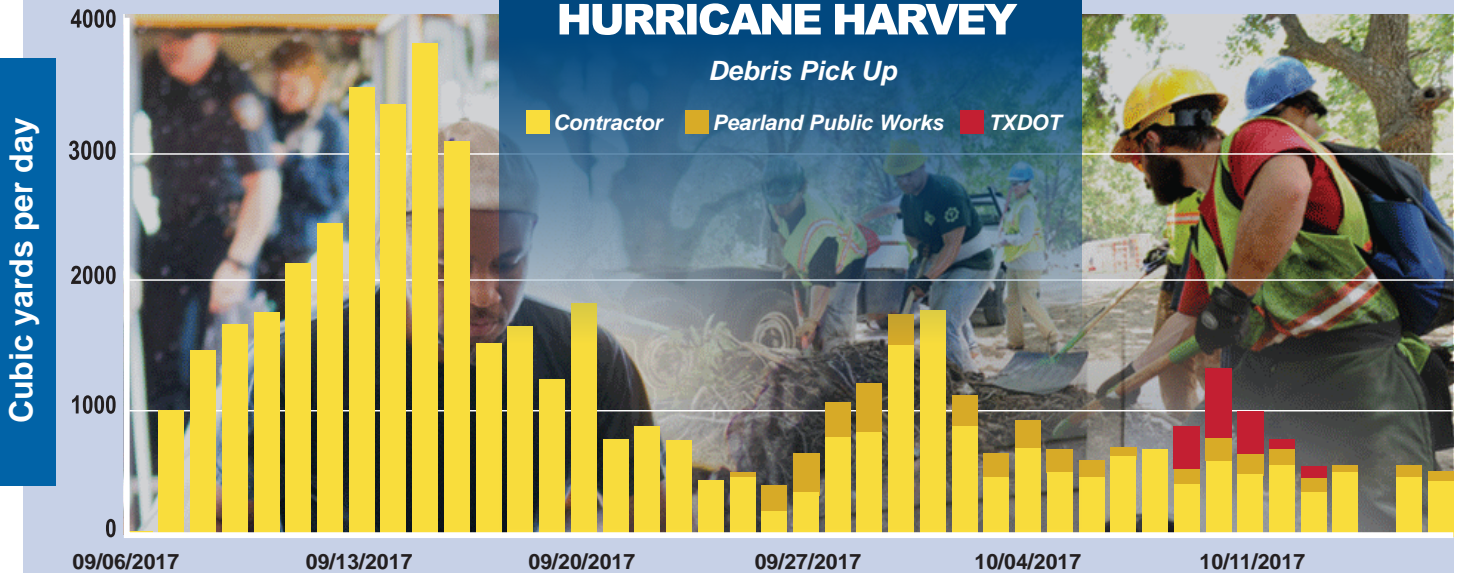

Firefighters, police officers and public works helped citizens escape flooded homes and neighborhoods with impassible streets, and got them safely to shelters or into other forms of temporary housing.

Since the storm hit Pearland, local government personnel have been working with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the State to make sure taxpayer-funded facilities, equipment and roads are brought back to their pre-Harvey condition. City officials submitted a Request for Public Assistance (RPA) to FEMA immediately following the storm, paving the way to cover the costs of removing 55,000 cubic yards of debris from residential right-of-ways in the City, and that will help with the uninsured portions of costs to repair buildings and vehicles damaged by the storm.

Pearland weathered Hurricane Harvey comparatively well. Although there were specific areas that had house flooding, which is very impactful to those properties, those areas, mostly built in the unincorporated county prior to being brought into the city. The City of Pearland weathered well, even with the incredibly large scale growth and development thanks to major public drainage improvements invested over the years and new construction that is permitted and inspected to the building and drainage code requirements.

IMPORTANT STORMWATER INFORMATION FOR RESIDENTS

The Municipal Storm Sewer System permit (MS4) by the Texas Commission on Environment Quality (TCEQ) allows the City of Pearland to discharge into surface water of the state. The City's second five-year for Stormwater Management Plan was approved by TCEQ in 2015 which is available to the public through the City's Stormwater Management webpage. The Stormwater Management Plan basically deals with the ways to improve the surface water quality using various Best Management Practices (BMPs). There are a number of ways that a home/business owner can help to reduce the chemical, biological, and physical pollutants off the ground and out of the storm sewer system. Some BMPs include:

- Limit the use of fertilizers and pesticides.
- Keep sewage from being disposed of in storm drains.
- Pick up after your pets.
- Clean vehicles at a wash station or in the grass.
- Never dispose toxic chemicals down the storm drain.
- Do not throw trash into the storm drain.
- Properly dispose of trash/yard waste.
- Never dispose of fats, oils, or grease down the drain.

Pearland's floodplains

You can learn more about the flood risk at your property by reviewing flood maps. Stop by the Pearland Branch of Brazoria County Library or visit the Engineering Division at 3519 Liberty Drive. Everyone who wants to look at the flood maps will be helped. The floodplain map was prepared by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). However, these are not the only areas that may flood. Some of our flood-prone areas are not shown on the flood map because they are due to local storm drainage problems. During heavy rain storms, drainage problems may cause flooded roads, local ponding, and/or overflowing ditches. Our worst and most frequent flooding occurs along Clear Creek, but other waterways also rise out of their banks and can flood homes.

Flood insurance protects you financially

If your home or business is in the floodplain or an area where stormwater collects, flood insurance is recommended. Flood damage is not covered by your standard property insurance policy or your renter's policy. Some mortgages require you to buy flood insurance, but you can buy a policy even if your lender doesn't require it. Most insurance agents can sell you a policy. This important financial protection can pay for cleanup costs and to repair damage to your building. Be sure to ask about coverage to help replace your personal belongings or building contents. Note! There is a 30-day waiting period before coverage takes effect – don't wait for the next storm to protect your family. Just because you haven't had flood damage in the past doesn't mean you will be safe the next time the water rises. Don't make a big mistake and think that disaster assistance or federal loans will be your best solution.

After a flood

If your home or business is damaged, you may be required to get a permit to make repairs. If repairs cost more than 50 percent of the market value of your building, FEMA regulations require you to bring the building "into compliance" with the floodplain regulations. This could mean elevating the building on a higher foundation or other measures to satisfy the rules.

If you experience increased cost of compliance (ICC) and are covered by flood insurance, in addition to the regular insurance payment you may be eligible for up to $30,000 more. This money is to pay for property protection and compliance. In addition, please remember to save all documents such as receipts and photos associated with flood damage repair which will be helpful for your flood damage claim and flood mitigation insurance. Call the City for a damage estimate and remember to apply for a permit in order to qualify for this money.
